

No American Bride Ever Received Such a Variety Of Presents--They Probably Are Worth Quarter Million

Copyright by Frances B. Johnston.
MRS. LONGWORTH.

Amid the congratulation of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Longworth left years ago the prospe got to talking. Nicholas continued his courtship undimayned, and wherever Alice went he was pretty sure to follow. Gosimp has it that she gave him as many as a dozen "Nos," but he only smiled and said he would ask her again. She is said to have told him at a theatre party one night that she "hated bald-headed men," at which remark "Nick" grinned good-naturedly. (He is quite bald.) He replied that his future wife wouldn't be able to pull his hair. It is said that he finally got an affirmative answer while at the American party which visited the

There was a ball given by the O. F. W. of Plainfield at the hall on the evening of February 14th, with six couples in attendance.

The Ladies' Aid of the Universalist society are planning to serve a dinner at the town meeting day.

The convention committee met the first of the week and decide to have about the same talent as last year, far as they can be engaged.

The kidnapping of Eddie Cudahy, December 19, 1900, and his release upon payment of his father of $25,000 ransom money, created a great sensation and the search for kidnapers was stimulated at the time by the offer of a reward of $50,000 by Mr. Cudahy.

Last October Crowe was arrested in Butte, Mont. He was put on trial February 7. There was no evidence positive to identify Crowe as one of the kidnapers.

Iowa university's best baseball player, have agreed not to play this year, acknowledging they were professionals and saying there is, in their belief, no amateur baseball player of any skill in any university in the United States.

nomination Mr. Bigelow was called and as he mounted the platform was greeted with loud applause. The caucus was one of the most largely attended in recent years and the enthusiasm manifested bespoke great Republican interest in the coming campaign.

Montpelier, Feb. 17.—The funeral of George D. Osgood, who died at his wife's home, was held at the Philippses, was held this forenoon at ten o'clock from Bethany chapel, the Rev. L. F. Ross officiating. The interment was in Green Mount cemetery.